HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

Jim Restine, Ocean Beach plumber, says that a fella came in to pay his bill the other day and left behind his wallet containing $175.

Being an honest man, Jim phoned him. "Did you lose anything?" he asked.

"No," replied the other.

"Well, you'd better come on down and see."

"No—I'm too busy."

Jim tried again. "There's a wallet here with $175 in it," he said.

The guy finally felt in his pocket and realized his wallet was gone. Without further argument he hotfooted it down to Restine's and got it.

Me, I haven't made up my mind whether I'll vote for or against the 16-million-dollar bond issue for construction of a Point Loma sewage disposal plant. But I was amused to note last Friday, at a meeting in the City Council chamber, that several prominent citizens who favored the plant were introduced by name, whereas the opponents remained anonymous.

Consequently, one daily newspaper listed four prominent citizens who spoke for the project, in addition to City officials. Not one outspoken opponent was mentioned by name in either daily paper.

As an old Civic Center reporter myself, I am aware that it wasn't the reporters' fault. They're overworked and harassed. If the City officials who conduct the meeting don't ask that every speaker identify himself—name and address—then the politically-inexperienced layman doesn't do so. And it's impossible for a reporter to interview each person who rises in a crowded room to speak.

In this case, many of them spoke while seated.

So what? Nothing—except that there are two sides to every question and Joe Blow, of Point Loma, who paid a fancy price for his home, probably knows as much about sewage as Jasper Merryweather, Prominent Citizen.

End of pontification.

I noted with a snicker that another crumbling yellowed copy of the Ulster County Gazette (New York), of Jan. 4, 1800, popped up in the public prints on Washington's Birthday.

This particular issue describes the funeral of George Washington, who died Dec. 14, 1799. When I was a cub reporter, back around the turn of the century (to be truthful, about 1930), people were always bringing yellowed copies into the office on Washington's Birthday.

I finally figured out that some smart merchandiser probably had got hold of an authentic copy and printed up a few hundred thousand, probably aged-in-the-wood (pulp), and made himself a few bucks.

Anyhow, in consulting my bales of clippings, I find that the last time I fell for the good old Ulster County Gazette was July 13, 1933.

July, yet! Heck, it wasn't even Washington's Birthday.

The child suffered a severely cut lip, requiring six stitches, and a badly bruised face. After treatment by Dr. Lloyd Gillin he was taken to Scripps Hospital for overnight observation.

Arnold was playing yith a little friend, and when he dashed into the street he was hit by the car.

A termite control truck driven by Landis L. Haas, of San Diego, going west on Brighton Avenue last Tuesday at 1:20 p.m., collided at the intersection of Brighton and Cable with a Safeway Store truck driven by Ernest F. Hood, also of San Diego. Minor damage was done to the Safeway truck, but the termite vehicle suffered about $600 damage.

T. W. Quinn, of San Diego going north on Narragansett at Sunset Cliffs Blvd. Friday at 7:30 p. m., made a left turn into the path of a car driven by Nelda J. Miller, 4661 Niagara, going south on Narragansett Ave. Minor damage was sustained by both cars.

An unknown hit-and-run car going west on Voltaire street, Saturday morning at 2:30, failed to make a right turn onto West Point Loma Blvd. and jumped the curb, hitting a wall and house belonging to D. J. Sass, 5172 W. Pt. Loma Blvd. Damage was about $100.

Dale Harreld, 4757 Newport Ave. reported to police that on Washington's Birthday someone took a bowling ball and camera from his car parked in his yard.

Norton Ealy, owner of the property at 5046½ Muir Ave., reported that on Feb. 21 someone entered a vacant furnished rental, taking an end table, lamp, throw rugs and a double mattress, total value $130.

The suspect attempted familiarities, but one of the children ran home, reporting the incident. The man was arrested.

Sen. Kraft Announces He Is A Candidate

Senator Fred H. Kraft has announced that he is a candidate for re-election to the California State Senate from this county.

"During the past twelve years I have served in the Legislature," Kraft said, "our state and county have undergone a period of unprecedented growth in population which has complicated old problems and created new ones. My experience in serving the people in this time has given me a broad knowledge of the needs of the entire state as well as our own county. I have constantly consulted with the people of San Diego County, not just of one group or section, but of all interests and occupations, to learn their problems and their wishes.

"A sound business-like humane government has been my aim," Kraft declared, "one with the maximum of efficiency and economy and the minimum of interference with the rights and privileges of our citizens. In the immediate future our biggest problem will be economy. I, along with the many citizens with whom I have talked, am definitely opposed to any additional taxation. We must live within our income, and that is not an easy job."

Kraft was born in Brooklyn and educated in public and parochial schools in New York. By profession he is a pharmacist and has owned his own drug store on the same corner in Ocean Beach since 1920. He is a naval veteran of World War I. Elected to the Assembly in 1942, he was re-elected in 1944, and he is now serving his second term as State Senator of this county.

Among other outstanding legislation, he introduced and sponsored laws regulating the sales of dangerous drugs and hypnotics. These measures received nation-wide acclaim and are being copied by other states. He said: "While legislation relating to business and professions and public health and safety are of personal interest to me because of my own work, I am concerned with all phases of government. To me there are no insignificant aspects; every activity, service, or program is of importance to some one, some group, or some area.

"Some of you may recall," Kraft continued, "that four years ago a major operation kept me from campaigning actively. Today I have recovered completely and am in better health than I have enjoyed for years."

Leaders of San Diego County working for Senator Kraft's re-election commented on the great value of his seniority to this county. "We all know," one declared, "that in the Senate, committee chairmanships and assignments as well as legislative standing are based chiefly on the length of a legislator's service in that house. When a county is fortunate, as we are, in having a man like Senator Kraft with an outstanding record of Senate service, the voters of that district are represented by him on the most important committees and their wishes and views are given added significance.

FRED H. KRAFT

"Senator Kraft is now twelfth among Republican leaders, and this seniority combined with his reputation for vigorous action and energetic, outstanding representation makes him one of the legislative leaders of California. This fact is of the great importance to our county. We have in Senator Kraft a legislator of experience, known, respected, and admired by his colleagues for his hard-hitting, forthight, and unswerving devotion to his county and his State. His position of seniority and his standing as one of the top Republican leaders of the upper house are assets of the greatest significance to San Diego County."

SOME FEAR 'IT'---OTHERS DON'T

Pt. Loma Sewage Plant Attacked And Defended

With San Diego Chamber of Commerce directors expected to endorse a proposed 16-million-dollar sewer bond issue, directors of the Ocean Beach Chamber took no action Tuesday on the projected Point Loma sewage disposal plant. Harry La Dou, O. B. Chamber president, who attended a hot session in Civic Center last Friday, said the directors will discuss it at their next meeting March 9.

Many Point Lomans attended the meeting in the City Council chamber Friday. It was billed as a question-and-answer session but at times resolved itself into an acrimonious debate as various persons popped up to protest and express their fears of odor and beach contamination.

Mayor John D. Butler, presiding, introduced A. M. Rawn, of Los Angeles, who headed a three-man board of enginers which recommended the sewage plant site.

Rawn was positive there would be no odor nor shore pollution if the plant were properly designed and operated. "This is the best site we could find," he said. "And the most economical."

(The site has not been pinpointed. However, an authoritative source said it is "about on the boundary between the Fort Rosecrans Military Reservation and the Navy property, and about 2000 feet south of California Western University.")

CITY NEGOTIATING

City Manager O. W. Campbell, questioned by Dr. Paul Wedgewood, of Sunset Cliffs Blvd., said the City is negotiating for 25 or 30 acres of Government land, which would permit plant expansion.

Dr. William C. Rust, president of Cal Western, said: "We expect to use 30 acres of our property (apparently beach) for recreation, and would like to know two things: (1) What are the guarantees? and (2) What recourse do we have if things go wrong?"

Rawn replied, "A proper structure can be built, and the State Water Pollution Board has jurisdiction"—indicating it could stop any nuisance.

Mayor Butler said the City could be sued if private property were adversely affected.

A. Greene, of 4552 Coronado Ave., arose to say that "the sewer may not smell but the idea will. 'I'll put up $100 to defeat the bonds.'"

Milton Wegeforth, of 428 Silvergate Ave., said: "We feel that property on Point Loma will be depreciated by the sewage plant. We want it off the Point. We live in an R-1 residential zone of fine homes and no business property and we want to keep it that way."

A woman resident on Garden Lane protested against the plant, saying the wind blows in from the ocean and up the canyons.

Rawn declared that "odors are inexcusable in a well-designed plant, and it probably will be one-half mile from the nearest house."

Another objector, identified only as "Mr. Collins," asserted that if the City attempts to "foist this sewage plant on one of the most beautiful places in the U.S., the citizens will defeat it.

"We're organizing," he declared. "We'll spend any reasonable amount to defeat it."

THOSE IN FAVOR

After opponents had their say, Mayor Butler introduced A. V. Engel, president of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce.

"The enginers are competent," Engel declared. "We must have an adequate sewage plant and cannot longer delay action. I plan to place the proposal before the Chamber Board of Directors and will recommend favorable action."

M. H. Golden, contractor, then spoke. "I saw the San Francisco sewage plant, in a 'snooty' neighborhood," he said. "It had no odor. I have no fears—and I live out there." (Point Loma.)

David G. Fleet said, "We've got 175 acres on Point Loma and feel the plant is not going to depreciate property values."

Former Mayor Harley E. Knox asked if the objectionable status of the present sewage plant on Harbor Dr., near 32nd St., would be eliminated.

"Yes," replied City Manager Campbell. "It will be abandoned for sewage purposes."

Knox said he is going to build a home on Point Loma "and I'll vote for this sewer bond issue. The bay pollution is bad now, and San Diego had better get off the dime in this. The western slope of Point Loma, in the military reservation, is isolated and the plant would be hidden. It's an ideal location."

City Manager Campbell said the City Council had decided to place the sewer bond issue on the June 8 ballot.

"Then why are we here?" someone asked.

MAJ. HALLADAY COMES THRU IN FISH DERBY

With the first annual $5000 Winter Fishing Derby scheduled to end Sunday night, deep sea anglers redoubled their efforts to bag a fish large enough to take the 21-inch TV-radio combination set which tops the final week prizes.

Warren Wilson, of La Mesa, won the monthly TV set with a 17-10 ling, but Major Harry Halladay, 3211 Edith Lane, Pt. Loma, who has sacked more derby prizes this winter than any two other individuals, came through at the last minute to win the week's top award.

Halladay's 16 pound 13 ounce ling was one of 16 caught by anglers striving to catch big sable fish in deep water. They landed only one small sable, but their efforts were far from wasted. The big ling catch completely revamped the list of prize winners.

Other monthly winners, in addition to Wilson and Halladay, were: Frank Pelican, Carlbad, 17-6 cow cod, and Albion Baker, Paonia, Colo. 16-15 cow cod. Weekly winners, in addition to Halladay, were Bill Strong, 16-11 ling; I. H. Sheffer, Wedderburn, Ore., 14-5 ling and J. S. Arnhart, 14-2 ling.

Low Visibility For Pump Plant

"The proposed Catalina Blvd. Pumping Plant will be located downhill from the existing plant, and it is doubtful if it will be visible from the street. If it is, some planting will be done."

That statement was made by City Manager O. W. Campbell this week in a letter to Frank Luckel, president of the Sunset Cliffs Improvement Association. Luckel had suggested that "it would be helpful to the general appearance of the Point Loma area if the landscaping around the proposed Catalina Pumping Plant could be made to conform to the landscaping around Fire Station No. 22," according to Campbell.

The pumping plant will be a concrete block type building, Campbell said. "I hope this new construction will improve the general appearance of the area," he concluded.

Big O. B. Development Project Is Underway

A $300,000 ocean front development project involving construction of 20 duplex houses is 25 percent completed, Harold La Fleur, of the Voltaire Realty Co., announced this week.

The development is located at the continuation of W. Point Loma Blvd., at Voltaire St. "It took three years," said La Fleur, "to acquire enough land for 30 lots. The property had sat there for many years without being developed.

"We are building 20 individual beach duplexes—40 units altogether. Fourteen are under construction now and the other six will be started soon. We are installing and paying for paved streets, sidewalks, water, sewers and storm drains."

The duplexes are of modern construction — stucco, redwood and concrete block—with one- and two-bedroom units. Three already have been sold, La Fleur reported. A two-unit duplex sells for $13,750. The down payment is only $2500, which is extremely low when compared with ocean frontage elsewhere, La Fleur pointed out.

"We arrange the financing on the balance of the cost," he added. "It's an opportunity for the small investor or permanent resident."

The location is just south of the Mission Bay jetties, which stabilize the beach area. Each unit will be landscaped and have off-street parking. Some have fireplaces. A City-owned beach park adjoins the property on the southwest.

WHAT'S UP, DOC?—Those Point Loma jack rabbits the old-timers talk about, are still hanging out at the same old stand, and newcomers, Dr. and Mrs. Guy B. Everist, 3562 Addison in Fleetridge, can prove it. Witness their struggling, tender ivy plants which provide the beverage for Mr. Rabbit's meals. Recently the bunny gourmets added Dr. Everists' young trees to their menu. We offer this free advice to the Doc: Plant 'em some carrots!

SHOW MUST GO ON—Having too many girls for the number of parts in the play they wanted to produce, didn't faze Mrs. Richard Kelley and Mrs. A. P. Amedee with Brownie Scout Troop 850. Two Brownies will take one part and speak in unison when they present "Little Seeds" in the Girl Scout Tournament March 24. In the play it seems that the little seeds (Brownies Scouts to You!) tucked away in huge brown paper sacks, will ont sprout until the "sun", "wind" and "rain" combine to get some action. And action they get!

ADDED ATTRACTION—Some teachers are always thinking up ways to make school more interesting, thereby fostering real learning. When first graders at Loma Portal school study, "Trains", teacher Mrs. Lawrence V. Le Maire wears a crisp cotton skirt printed with clever, colorful drawings of toy engines, freight cars, brakemen waving lantern signals to the engineers, and conductors in their staid uniforms. And, to top it off, tiny lantern earlobs dangle from her earlobes.

STAR DUST—Two excited little girls in Point Loma recently were Sharon and Terry Patrick who were junior bridesmaids in their cousin's wedding in Piedmont, Calif. "It was a big wedding with all the frills," said their mother, Mrs. William Patrick, 3549 Carleton St.

HITHER, THITHER, YON—Impressive pageants, parades and its townspeople wearing colorful Arabian costumes, dressed up the little town of Indio last week-end for the annual Date Festival, reports week-end vacationer, Mrs. Bill Gilbert, 1129 Savoy St.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rose, of Bakersfield, visited with Mrs. Rose's mother, Mrs. J. P. Salvadore and her sisters, Mmes. Joe Coit, Alfred Garcia, and Frank F. Rose, before they left for a two months trip in Texas Arkansas and Missouri.

It was a tough decision for judges at he Ocean Beach Lions Club meeting Thursday evening when the lovely twin sisters, Joanne and Karen Albrecht, competed for public speaking honors. Whoever said, "Beauty and brains don't mix" didn't know the Albrecht twins.

How to ride in comfort ...AT 2¢ A MILE

One ride in a Chair Car on our modern streamliners will show you how delightfully comfortable train travel can be—and how inexpensive all this luxury is.
For about two cents a mile, on most roundtrip tickets, you get soft-as-a-cloud foam rubber seats...dust-free, draft-free air conditioning... no-glare fluorescent lighting...lots of leg room and move-around room ...extra large picture windows... feather-touch doors...spacious washrooms.
That's why we say that Chair Car travel on an SP streamliner is the most luxurious form of all low-cost transportation. Try it and see!
Freight gets a low-cost ride, too. On the average, we move a ton of freight for about 1½ cents a mile. We have more miles of line serving more Western cities and towns than any other railroad. So for fast, efficient and dependable freight service—whether carloads or l.c.l.—call our nearest agent.

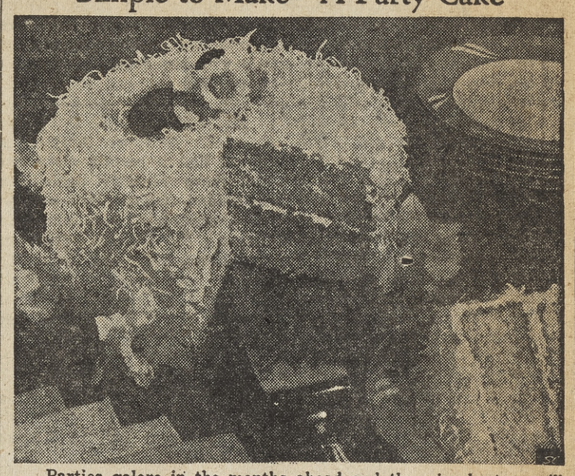
Simple to Make—A Party Cake



Parties galore in the months ahead and the wise hostess will keep a supply of packaged cake mixes in her pantry, so she can put a cake together with no effort. For instance, the cake pictured here is a tender, velvety white cake, frosted all over with a fluffy frosting and coconut lavishly sprinkled on top and sides. It's a beauty—you'll want to make it often!

Coconut Layer Cake

Prepare one package of Swans Down White Cake Mix, according to package directions.

Bake in two eight-inch layers at (350°F.) about 30 minutes, or until done. When cool, frost and sprinkle with moist, shredded coconut. To make the snowy white frosting, proceed as follows:

Frosting. Combine 2 unbeaten egg whites with 1-1/2 cups sugar, dash of salt, 1/3 cup water, and 2 teaspoons light corn syrup in top of double boiler. Beat about 1 minute or until thoroughly mixed. Then place over rapidly boiling water and beat constantly with sturdy egg beater (or at high speed of electric beater) 7 minutes, or until frosting will stand in stiff peaks. (Stir frosting up from bottom and sides of pan occasionally with rubber scraper, spatula, or spoon.) Remove from boiling water; then add 1 teaspoon vanilla and beat 1 minute, or until thick enough to spread.

BLUEJACKETS MAKE HISTORIC VISIT TO SAN DIEGO....1908

From the Historical Collection of Union Title Insurance & Trust Company

Present-day San Diegans are quite accustomed to the sight of Navy men on the city streets and Navy ships in the harbor. In 1908, however, when the fleet paid a visit to San Diego, the event was of major importance and attracted nationwide attention.

This photograph from the historical collection of Union Title Insurance and Trust Company shows the arrival of some of the men under command of "Fighting Bob" Evans of Spanish-American War fame. This was in April, 1908, and represented shore leave for the sea-weary men after the long voyage around the Horn—the Panama Canal not yet having been completed. The fleet of 20 ships and some 16,000 men represented the largest Naval group ever to visit the west coast.

San Diego was the first port-of-call, and the townspeople planned a historic celebration. Theatres and other places of amusement were thrown open to the uniformed men. Parades, banquets, automobile picnics (a special treat in 1908, when Dobbin was still the only reliable form of transportation), dances, and special events made the visit a memorable one.

The ships, festooned with lights, were anchored near Coronado, and provided as interesting a sight to San Diegans as San Diego was to the Bluejackets.

Food Sense—Not Nonsense

Let's Have No 11 o'clock Drag!

Breakfast habits of many Americans on-the-go are due for a change—a change back to better breakfasts. Too often, this first meal of the day could no longer qualify as one of the good old-fashioned "three squares a day." People who skip breakfast or eat a skimpy one are apt to drag by 11 o'clock.

These are the people who may say, "I'm not hungry early in the morning." Perhaps they may not be, but are they alert at this time or does it take a good lunch to get them into action? Those who lack an early morning appetite might start the breakfast habit by eating small portions of a balanced breakfast, stepping up the quantities gradually.

The cost of mid-morning hunger has been checked in an extensive study at the University of Iowa School of Medicine. During late morning hours, college students who ate a good breakfast turned out more work, were quicker in their reactions—both mental and physical—and did not tire as easily as when they either ate no breakfast or had only unsweetened coffee.

Scientists say that those who skip over this meal or who eat a slim one, frequently fail to get enough of the needed nutrients in luncheon and dinner. For example, fresh fruits which furnish vitamins for sparkle are not always included in the last two meals of the day.

What is a good breakfast? Authorities say that breakfast should furnish from one-fourth to one-third of the daily food needs. Plenty of fatigue-chasing protein should be in the breakfast—at least one-fourth of the daily protein needs should be included if that let-down feeling is not to appear by mid-morning.

A good breakfast can follow a basic pattern—fruit, a main dish such as eggs or a breakfast meat, enriched bread or toast, and milk. All of these foods except fruit are top sources of protein; they feed out a steady supply of energy. Enriched bread supplies not only protein but the essential B-vitamins, riboflavin, niacin and thiamine. Served as French toast, bread can be the basis of a high protein dish which combines eggs, milk and bread.

Do It Yourself!

By BOB and BETTY BROWN

A GOOD NEIGHBOR GIVES GOOD ADVICE

"Bob, look at the Smith's lovely plank fence — and look at ours!" Betty Brown pulled at her husband's sleeve.

"Their fence is at least 2 years older than ours, yet ours is decayed and rotten — nearly ready to tumble down — and theirs is as sturdy and beautiful as new."

"Oh oh! Another expense!" her husband, Bob, moaned. "To say nothing of about six week-ends of work."

"I hate to say 'I-told-you-so'," came Joe Smith's cheery voice from next door. "But Dan at the lumber yard explained to both of us that untreated wood in contact with the ground is an easy prey for termites or wood rot. Even set in cement, moisture seeps in and starts decay. And remember," he said, "non-leaching preservatives like Chemonite repel decay and wood-destroying insects."

"But I want a painted fence," Betty argued.

"Chemonited lumber is as paintable and easy to handle as untreated wood," Joe reminded her.

"But the expense!" Bob protested.

"Only about $15 more for the whole fence," Joe went on. "And it will last up to ten times as long!"

CHANGES MADE AT MARC'S

The customers of Marc's Store for Men were pleasantly surprised recently. The owner of the store, Marc Strauss, has redecorated the interior in appealing charcoal accenting the western murals with large planters. The dressing rooms have been completely refinished to comply with the decorative motif of the store.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Watson of 4483 Newport Avenue, no doubt had a certain sway over the move recently made from Cleveland, Ohio, by son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene R. Williams and two daughters, Kay and Janet. The family have purchased property in the 4300 block on Niagara Avenue. They had visited here several times before deciding to make this their home.

Frank Kerr, 4414 Leon street, ex-Padre baseball catcher will this year play ball in Modesto, California.

Richard Newton has returned to Army duties at Fort Ord, California after spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Garrow and family, 4423 Marseilles street. Richard is a former student of Dana Junior High, San Diego Vocational School and Junior College.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Mooney and daughter, Cindy Sue of San Francisco are making their home here in the 500 block on Santa Monica. Mrs. Mooney is a graduate of Point Loma high school. Her father, Walter L. Temples resides here on Long Branch avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. F. Englehardt and daughter, Marcia have moved from 4854 Pescadero Avenue to their own home on Jennings street. Mrs. Englehardt is Girl Scout neighborhood chairman for Silvergate, Cabrillo and St. Agnes. As if that wasn't enough activity, she is also cookie chairman.

The Harold Chambers and Charles Snell families have just recently followed up moving vans. Mr. and Mrs. Chambers and daughters, Betty Ann and Kathy have moved from 1705 Redondo street to their own home in the 1900 block on Chatsworth. Mr. and Mrs. Snell moved from Idaho street in San Diego to the Redondo street house. Mr. Snell is a San Diego attorney.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shields and two daughters, Linda and Patti, are not newcomers to San Diego, but this is their first time to live in Ocean Beach. They are residing here on Adair street. They have lived for the past year in Oceanside, where Mr. Shields owns an upholstery shop.

Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Duniphan have moved from Pacific Beach to their own home in the 1700 block on Catalina Blvd. Mrs. Duniphan is a fourth grade teacher at Dewey Elementary school.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Snow are new residents of the area moving into 2326 Chatsworth Boulevard. They came here from 27th street. They are members of St. Peter's Lutheran Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lownes and Virgil Swoboda flew to Mexico City on Saturday to attend a Shriner's Caravan. The local people will be gone an indefinite length of time.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Davidson have returned to their home at 8222 DeLongpre, Hollywood, following a week's stay in Ocean Beach. Mr. Davidson was under a doctor's care while here and has returned home to recuperate.

Nice riding now on Albion street since a recent paving job has been completed from Talbot street to Silvergate Avenue.

Lt. Victor Bell, USN and Mrs. Bell and their eleven year old daughter, Vicki have returned here from San Francisco and are living on Narragansett Ave. for the next six months. They plan then to move into their own home at 1644 Catalina Blvd.

Army Reserve Misson Told

The Reporter after reviewing many of the questions that you have been asking, feels that the mission of the Army Reserve should again be spelled out to clarify any doubt that you may have concerning the objectives.

1. To furnish, in the event of a national emergency, units effectively organized, trained, and equipped in peacetime for rapid mobilization, expansion, and deployment.

2. To provide additional trained personnel in such state of readiness as to be immediately available.

National interests are such that we must maintain a strong and efficient Army Reserve. Individuals should remain active in order to further their own professional experience, and even more important, to insure the well balanced all service team.

In light of the recent cutbacks in the Regular Army, this program must be more forcibly implemented if this balance is to be maintained.

The opportunities for security are yours with the Army Reserve for both male and female personnel. Security in the form of retirement benefits after twenty successful years with the program; security in the form of a full day's pay based on your rank and length of service for the two hour training assemblies; chances for promotion and advancement in your particular field; and opportunities for active duty training at the various service schools based upon your request are available. These and many more intangibles are included in the Army Reserve program advantages, but most important is Security to you and your family in the preservation of the way of life with which we in this great country have been blessed.

Should you desire further information, contact personally or by mail your Army Reserve Training Center, Building 140, Fort Rosecrans, or call ACademy 3-3168.

LEE C. POOLE

"Veterans do accumulate Social Security benefits," John Cerious emphasized to his wife, Mary,, as he changed the subject. "It was a terrible thing for Bill to go the way he did—and from an accident right at home, too. But you know, Mary, in 1935, home accidents were second only to the auto as the greatest accident killer in America—28,000 was the year's fatalities in home accidents; autos got over 38,000 lives and injured more than 1,300,000."

"What's the good of all your old statistics?" Mary almost angrily asked as she resumed her original thoughts, "Bill was young. He saw plenty of action in the Armed Forces . . . got a Purple Heart. He must have been just inches from death hundreds of times. He gets out of the service whole, starts a family and then his number comes up from a head injury caused by a fall from a stepladder he borrowed from us. It just doesn't seem fair, John. What will his Ethel and little Bill Jr. do?"

John tried to redirect Mary's emotionalism with, "Look, dear, we can't bring Bill back, can we? You and Ethel are pretty good friends aren't you? In a few days we'll have a talk with Ethel and maybe we can help some. She's going to need money. I know Bill kept his GI Insurance. She'll have some income from that. And I think she will be entitled to some Social Security benefits too."

"But John" Mary interrupted, "Bill hadn't been working long enough in covered employment to get Social Security. You told me yourself that a young man needed to be covered half the calendar quarters since 1950—and Bill certainly hadn't been working that long since getting out of the Service."

"OK, Mary," John tolerated, "but Bill had military service. The 1952 amendments to the Social Security Act made an active duty in our Armed Forces, from the end of World War II through 1953, count towards retirement benefits and towards survivor's insurance benefits. An earlier law provided that time in the Armed Services from Sept. 16, 1940 through the end of War II would count towards Social Security benefits at the equivalent rate of $160 monthly wages. So, from Sept. 30, 1940 through Dec. 31, 1953, service in the Armed Forces created credits for Social Security benefits. If I remember correctly, it doesn't matter when a veteran dies whether before or after discharge."

"You're so smart, John," Mary teased from beneath her somber feelings, "It's good somebody around this house reads a lot of old statistics and dry facts that go beneath the surface of our every day lives. And besides, two weeks ago you agred with me that we ought to go over our financial guarantees a little more thoroughly. Isn't it strange that death and accidents we read so much about don't seem very important until they happen close to home . . . like in the case of Bill, for instance? I'm going to call Mr. Poole right now for an appointment to go over all these questions with us. You stop by the safe-deposit box tomorrow and bring home all our life insurance policies. Didn't he say AC 3-5954? I know you are the smartest man in the world, dear, but it won't hurt to have your opinions confirmed."

John smiled as Mary rose to get the telephone and added, "Mr. Poole will agree with me alright . . . and besides, it is better to take protective action while we can rather than regret it after it is too late."

THE OLD COAST

By BEN F. DIXON, Curator
San Diego Historical Society

EVENTFUL YEAR

Although no trail had reached this Port of San Diego from East, or North or South—other than a few faint traces of Indian footpaths—the year 1710 was an eventful one in San Diego trail history.

Great events in the East forecast the westward movement of a century later which was to unite the Atlantic and Pacific shores with overland trails for the mountain men, the express riders, the Concord coaches, the steel rails and the state highways. Through the tireless activities of Father Kino the future Anza Trail had been explored to the Colorado Rive. San Diego's own Camino Real had, in less than fifteen years, crept southward from Loreto to the Bay of La Paz and northward as far as Muleage—roughly over three degrees of latitude and 200 miles of Baja California's winding, burning, slithering desert trail.

That year marked the arrival of Governor Alexander Spottswood in Virginia. It was he who a few years later formed the Knights of the Golden Horseshoe made the first trail westward over the Blue Ridge mountains and into the Shenandoah Valley. It was Spottswood, too, who in 1732 became Postmaster General of the English colonies and extended postal service southward to the Carolinas and Georgia.

In the same year, 1710, came the first Swiss immigrants to America. It was one of these, John A. Sutter, who in the mid-1800's was to bring American empire to the Sacramento Valley as the builder of Sutter's Fort. In the same year, 1710 a Pennsylvania gunsmith developed the "long rifle"—the gun with the long, rifled barrel, that was to shot its way to California with the westward movement.

In Sonora Father Eusebio Francisco Kino, whom Doctor Bolton has appropriately called the "Padre on Horseback", expanded the system of Jesuit missions north and northwest into present-day Arizona. By 1710 he had explored Indian trails as fas ar the Gila and Colorado rivers, had set foot on California soil, had proved to his own satisfaction that California was not an island—and that the King's Highway could be thrown around the head of the Gulf to make a supply route betwen the missions of Sonora and Baja California.

Kino died in 1711, and the secret of the route—if any secret there was—died with him. A dozen years before, he and Father Salvatierra of the Lower California glimpsed the Blue Sierras of California beyond the winding, crooked Colorado that seperated them from the land of their dreams. But it was not finally until 1746—as the result of the Jesuit Father Consag's explorations northward up the peninsula to the mouth of the Colorado—that European geographers generally accepted the fact that California was not an island.

Down on the peninsula El Camino Real began to grow, to send out its grasping tentacles. Zero Milepost at Loreto marked the first presidio, the supply base for all the missions, and the capital of the government of the Californias. Trails branched out toward the north, the south, the northwest and the southwest. The second mission was southwest at San Francisco Xavier, the third one north at Santa Rosalia Muleage, the fourth was south at Dolores del Sur, the fifth at San Jose Comondu toward the west, and the sixth at Guadalupe west of Mulege. By 1710 the southern third of the peninsula was well marked by the peregrinating branches of El Camino Real.

ADMIRAL ROSS T. McINTIRE USN (ret), former Surgeon General U. S. Navy, will address the Navy Wives Club on March 10th at 1:30 p.m. in the Independence Housing Recreation Hall on Buckmaster street.

Admiral McIntire, who is very concerned with medical care for dependents as well as the serviceman, has chosen for his topic, "Medical care for dependents and "fringed benefits".

He returned from Washington on December 6th, having spent almost a month conferring with the top policy makers on these subjects. Since his return he has addressed numerous organizations.

All Navy and Marine Corps wives are cordially invited to attend this meeting. Free child care will be provided.

They were among 200 Pathfinders from seven local Adventist churches who participated in the rally. The Ocean Beach club was the newest at the event.
